

Dual Credit Course Matrix
Dallas Independent School District – Dallas County Community College District
2007-2008

These college courses are available to Dallas Independent School District students for high school dual credit. Each high school must work with the DCCCD dual credit coordinator to determine which courses will be offered on their high school campus. Some courses are only available to specific high schools because they are part of a career cluster or magnet program. Some high school courses require the completion of two (or more) college courses in order for high school credit to be awarded. DC following a high school course title indicates a dual credit designated course number.

Note: Some of the college courses that are part of this dual credit list may not be transferable to a four-year university. Students wishing to apply these community college courses to a degree plan at a four-year university should check with the four-year university.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) limits high school students to two college courses for dual credit per semester.
